Heath-Porter

Harry Ingalls Heath of Holyoke, Mass., and Miss Bertha Mae Porter of Johnson were married at the home of the bride's parents last Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. G. French, a former pastor of the Congregational church of Johnson. The double ring service was used.

Mrs. Lyman Leach of Fairfax, a classmate of the bride at Johnson Normal, presided at the piano and played Nevila's "Rosary," followed by the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. During the ceremony she played "Melody in F" by Rubinstein. This was followed by Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The wedding procession was headed by the bridesmaid and best man, followed by the bride and groom, then by the bride's parents, Miss Reba Porter, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She wore white voile over blue and carried pink sweet peas. Mrs. Orin Jones, of Morrisville, another sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. Page Ufford of Hyde Park, a cousin of the bride, was best man. The bride's gown was of white silk with shadow lace and pearl trimmings and she carried white roses.

The ceremony was performed in front of a bank of ferns and evergreen, trimmed with golden rods and festooned with white crepe paper. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. Orin Jones.

After the ceremony refreshments were served by Frank Blaisdell and Misses Marion Cornell and Beryl Powell of Jeffersonville and Miss Gertrude Baker of Johnson.

Many beautiful presents were displayed. These were in charge of Mrs. Morris Hill of Johnson. The guest book was taken care of by Mrs. Frank Blaisdell.

The bride graduated from the Johnson Normal school in 1906 and has since been a successful teacher in the graded schools of Vermont and Massachusetts. The groom holds a responsible position in the office of Brown & Sharpe Mfg. Co. in Providence, R. I.
